Village Is Accused Of Using Coercion

—By Outside Residents

Group of residents outside the Village of Sidney assert that coercion is being brought to bear upon them to force them to join the village.

Residents of the Marine Drive extension, south of Queens Ave. state that they have been told that the only way they can get their road repaired is to seek inclusion within the Village of Sidney.

Spokesman for the group, H. H. Perry, told The Review that the property owners affected are those whose homes face the road owned by the village. The boundary of the village runs along the property line of Marine Drive. Although the homes are not within the village, they are dependent upon the village for the maintenance of their road. When he asked the village to maintain the road he was told that there were no ratepayers living on that road and that no work was therefore justified.

"We may not be in the village," he agreed, "but aren't we all living in Canada?" he asked.

CULMINATION

Culmination arose when the owners of property bordering on the village received notification last week from Dr. A. N. Beattie, director of Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit that the effluent from their septic tanks was entering the ditch on the roadside. A few years ago, recalled Mr. Perry, the Hon. Eric Martin, minister of health, told residents of the Village of Sidney that in so congested an area effluent from drains could not be eliminated and that the only answer was to install sewers.

"When the minister says one thing, how can his health officer demand an action contrary to that conclusion?" asked Mr. Perry.

Upon his return from an interview with Dr. Beattie on Monday afternoon, Mr. Perry reported that the director of the unit admitted no action would be taken to avoid the condition. In answer to his inquiry as to why the inspections had commenced on the village boundary and not elsewhere in North Saanich unorganized territory, Dr. Beattie had replied that the instigation had come from Sidney Village Clerk A. W. Sharp.

Chairman of the village commission, Herbert Bradley, told The Review that the complaints were inspired by the ratepayers of the village who criticized the condition of ditches draining into the village. Mr. Sharp is the village health officer, he said, and was acting in that capacity. There was no connection between the invitation to enter the village and the complaints, he said.

The property owners affected contend that the area includes some highly taxed property and that the village seeks its inclusion as no further expenditures would be involved should it be part of the village.

One property owner in the area concerned stated emphatically that if he were obliged to join the village his property would be up for sale at once.

"Ex-Chairman Harold Fox and Village Clerk Mr. Sharp both urged me to apply to join the village," he said. "Since then they have both moved out. Why should I move in?"

ONLY ONE DISSENTER ENCOUNTERED

Practically 100 per cent support of the move to incorporate Sidney and North Saanich into a fire prevention district is reported by Commander F. B. Leigh, head of Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department. Sponsors of the plan to have costs of operating the brigade placed on the taxes of property owners instead of raising the money by voluntary donations are greatly cheered by the reception given petitions which are now beginning to circulate.

Commander Leigh told The Review on Tuesday that he now has a complete record of the first 90 persons canvassed. Of this number 89 signed the petitions at once. The remaining gentleman is not yet convinced that the plan is satisfactory to him.

Circulation of the petitions will be continued by enthusiastic volunteers during the summer months and it is confidently expected that the program can be finalized this fall and the petitions submitted to the provincial government.

Trading Post Is Far South

Come firetrucks, come ditches, there is one happy man in Central Saanich, who is content, irrespective of whether his fellow-residents argue over fire protection or drainage. A man with a vivid past, Eskimo Abbott pursues his novel business on Veynes Road and enjoys the problems accompanying one of the larger collections of impedimenta on the lower island.

Eskimo gained his name from his years in the Canadian Arctic. A native of northern Ontario, who spent his early years in northern Saskatchewan, Eskimo was christened Leland. The old name was lost when he gained the newer tag. A fondness for the north country with a spectacular sled run from The Pas in northern Manitoba to New York, in 1939, brought him into the public eye. His new name was attached to him forever.

A big man with a love for animals and young children, he attracts visitors to his Central Saanich home. At any time during the day there will be a group of children playing among the toys which have been culled from the trading store. Eskimo invariably carries around candies which he will thrust upon the youngsters at odd times. While Eskimo attracts youngsters to his home, it is his wife Ruth who is left to tend them. Daughter of a Pennsylvania Dutch family, she met Eskimo when he was at the World Fair in 1939, after his colorful trek from Manitoba. They have one youngster, with the last name of her European ancestors.

Successful Dance

Very enjoyable dance was held on Saturday, June 9, at Galiano hall under the auspices of the Galiano Club.

David Weatherell's orchestra supplied the music and refreshments were served during the evening.

Prize winners at the dance were: J. Cook and W. Graham.

HOSPITALIZED

C. J. Lambert, West Saanich Road, is a patient in Rest Haven hospital.

This Is It!

Cause of the current controversy in Central Saanich is the 1936 International tank truck depicted above. Used by the council for five years for fire protection, the truck is now claimed by Sidney Pickles as his private property.

Two Drivers Are Fined In Sidney

On Saturday two drivers appeared in Sidney R.C.M.P. court to plead guilty before W. J. Ashby, J.P., to traffic offences. Raymond Fraser, Sidney, was fined $10 and costs of $5 for failure to stop at a stop sign. Ronald Grantage, Victoria, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $5 for exceeding the speed limit in a school zone.

On Monday Philip Paul was fined $200 with costs of $6.50 or three months in default, for loitering on private property at night.

Hugh MacMillan, of Duncan, was fined $10 and costs of $6.50 for intoxication.

Magistrate F. J. Baker heard the latter two cases.

Native Son Is Honored In Death

INSPECTOR MOSES

One of North Saanich's outstanding native sons, Inspector Dan Moses of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was laid to rest beside his ancestors in historic Holy Trinity churchyard on Saturday afternoon. Impressive services were conducted by Rev. Roy Melville for the noted athlete and police officer who succumbed in Veterans' Hospital, Victoria, on Thursday last, following a long illness.

Inspector Moses was the grandson of a North Saanich pioneer, Daniel Moses, whose remains lie in the Patricia Bay churchyard. His parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Chris Moses, are also buried there. The police officer was raised on (Continued on Page Five)

Pickles Claims Old Fire Truck Only Loaned To Municipality

—Bombshell Hits Council

Refusal of Central Saanich council to renovate the old No. 1 fire truck came to an unexpected head on Monday night when ex-Reeve Sydney Pickles claimed at a special council meeting that the truck was his personal property. Amid heated dispute, Mr. Pickles asserted that the truck was never donated to the municipality, but only loaned. His claim to the vehicle was tabled awaiting legal advice as to ownership.

"It is unfortunate," replied Councilor J. B. Windsor, "that we did not take Mr. Pickles' advice and spend more taxpayers' money on the truck."

"I never advocated the expenditure of money on the truck," replied Mr. Pickles. Councilor Windsor then suggested that Mr. Pickles had experienced a change of mind and was no longer urging renovation of the truck.

"I am not listening to you, Councilor Windsor," replied Mr. Pickles. "I can't be bothered."

Mr. Pickles then read out a statement regarding the original introduction of the truck into municipal use. He recalled the position of Central Saanich during its formative stages, when Saanich municipality extended fire protection for a time at a high cost.

Protection was later afforded by the Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department until such time as the new municipality could build up its own fire protection service. It was at this time, stated Mr. Pickles, that he purchased the truck in question. It was offered for sale in Victoria at $600.

BUY IN A HURRY

When two other potential purchasers appeared on the scene he gave a personal cheque for the vehicle. At that time it was planned by a group of ratepayers to reimburse Mr. Pickles. The plan was unsuccessful as many ratepayers contended that the municipality should pay for the vehicle. This was not possible while he sat as reeve, said Mr. Pickles.

He then spent another $200 in the (Continued on Page Three)

Noise Is At Minimum Assures Squadron C.O.

Criticism of noise made by training aircraft in the vicinity of Patricia Bay Airport, which appeared in last week's Review has brought a reply from the commanding officer of VC 922 Squadron, R.C.N. (R.), Lieut.-Cdr. A. M. Davidson. Speaking to The Review, Lieut.-Cdr. Davidson stated that it was regrettable if the Harvards of VC 922 caused annoyance to any residents in the vicinity of Patricia Bay Airport. Every effort is made to cause as little inconvenience to the district as possible. Night flying activity is curtailed beyond a reasonable hour. Flying over densely populated areas is restricted and flying over known bird and fur farms is avoided as much as possible.

However, the commanding officer felt that a certain amount of noise is inevitable in the vicinity of the airport.

Lieut.-Cdr. Davidson outlined the purpose of the reserve squadron and he explained that Canada's reserve forces are required to be as highly trained as possible for the defence of the country. All personnel in the reserve squadron, excepting the permanent staff, are civilians who don uniforms in their spare time to take their part in this vital undertaking. For this reason reserve establishments must be located at or near large cities with large populations.

Lieut.-Cdr. Davidson referred to the more general aspect of the unit and its effect on the district. He felt that all the military personnel stationed at Patricia Bay and many civilians associated in support of the military contribute greatly to the stature and economy of the district.

The Harvard training aircraft now in use by the R.C.N. and the R.C.A.F., although it has seen many years of service is still an ideal training aircraft and it is by no means obsolete. Its efficiency is demonstrated by the fact that it is still in service with air forces all over the world.

EVENING CLASSES

Adult Students Are Urged Register Now

Emphasis this fall in Saanich School District No. 63 will be on adult education. A. W. Murphy, district teacher, is night school superintendent and for the first time in the history of the school district a comprehensive schedule of courses is being prepared in anticipation of a large attendance.

Seven classes have been allocated to teachers and confirmation of the courses will depend on student registration. The seven subjects include the following:

Commercial subjects: Typing, shorthand and bookkeeping will be offered at Mount Newton high school under the tuition of Ken Balfour of the school staff.

Dressmaking will be provided at two centres. Miss H. Horrel will take this subject at Royal Oak high school and Mrs. B. Kennedy will be the teacher at North Saanich high school.

Conversational French, a course which attracted many residents of this area to Victoria last fall and winter, will be offered at North Saanich with Miss B. Hamilton in charge.

Leathercraft classes under the tuition of Mrs. Iris Godwin will be held at North Saanich high school.

SQUARE DANCING

Square dancing for beginners, offered under the general category of adult recreation, will be staged at Mount Newton under the direction of A. H. O. Bolster.

Do-it-yourself classes in woodwork and metalwork will be staged at three schools; C. Benell will direct this course at Royal Oak; R. Anstey at Mount Newton, and N. E. West at North Saanich.

An entirely new course in boat-building will be offered at North Saanich under the tutelage of Norman Greenhill. It may be provided for in the Sidney area, according to the availability of accommodation.

None of these classes will be opened if insufficient students are forthcoming. All adults interested in any course are urged to communicate with the school board office on Third St., Sidney, or the principal of any school in the district to register for the course chosen. Registrations are sought as early as possible in order that an assessment of space and material needs may be made well in advance.

He Was Signed Up For Flying By His Father

There has been much written in the pages of fiction of pre-natal influence. Irrespective of the fictional aspect of this factor, Lieut.-Cdr. Alex Davidson has reason to support it. The First World War played a substantial role in influencing his entire life, although he was not involved.

Lt.-Lieut. A. M. Davidson was recruited into the Education during the Second World War. A pilot in the first war, he had the pleasure of enlisting his son into the ranks of the R.C.A.F. Hence the pre-natal influence.

The new recruit in the ranks of pilots familiarized himself with his new duties. It was his first venture into the world of industry. He had enlisted straight from school. In 1941 he joined the air force. In 1942 he graduated as Pilot Officer from the school at Aymer, Ont.

Newly qualified as a pilot, Alex Davidson did not promptly get into action. His first duties were with the training of newer recruits. He concluded a tour as flying instructor before he was sent overseas.

In 1943 he was posted to Britain. There he took a course with a fighter operational training unit. Somewhat to his surprise he landed up on a Czechoslovakian squadron. For six months he listened to the strange language. He learned to understand it, but never to speak it. During that time he was with the

TYPE OF CONSTRUCTION IS MOOTED

Acquisition of Hall Poses Problem To Park Board

Interest in the construction of a community hall in the Sidney area has been paramount for the past several years. Community organizations covering every phase of social life have rallied to the support of Saanich, with a view to erecting a hall on the memorial park on Beacon Ave. at the earliest opportunity.

Saanich, after proving the minister of transport at considerable length, gained his consent to the acquisition of the recreation hall on the West Camp of Patricia Bay Airport. The original approval presented the building to the community hall association with the proviso that in the event of emergency it could be reclaimed by the department of national defence. This restriction was later lifted and the hall was promised to the association outright.

For several months a delay has been experienced by the association in gaining the minister's approval of the transfer of title to the building. The transfer, already promised, has been the subject of extensive exchange of correspondence.

Proponents of the acquisition of the building have contended that such a building, built for use as a recreation hall, and offering facilities not normally to be found in such a structure, is ideally suited for the community. Opponents have replied that the cost of moving the hall, making the necessary preparations at the site to receive it and the work of putting it into readiness for use will be prohibitive and beyond the cost of building a hall from scratch.

Total cost of the entire project, including provision of heating, foundation, wiring and sanitary equipment, will be in the region of $50,000 according to the estimate already published by Saanich.

No figures are readily available for the cost of building an entirely new hall, using new materials throughout.

Contractors have asserted that the acquisition of the recreation hall at West Camp is a good start on the project, for spectra of how the ultimate building is to be erected. It has been pointed out that not only does the airport building offer a vast source of lumber and other materials, but it also utilizes extensive trusses which were erected at considerable cost. Use of such trusses in any building undertaken by the community would save a considerable amount of money.

While Saanich goes ahead with its plans to obtain the building from the airport, members of the group will prepare complete estimates on the construction of various types of hall. Whether the present hall is to be transplanted en bloc and utilized in the same manner will depend on the approval of the community. Sponsors of the hall have been assured that the materials, if not the building, can be effectively employed in the erection of the community hall sought by Sidney and North Saanich for the past decade and longer. Whole sections of the old structure could be economically adapted to a new use.

In the meantime preparations for Sidney Day are proceeding apace. The association, which sponsors Sidney Day on Dominion Day, July 2, is confident that this year's program will transcend all previous years. The money realized by the day will be devoted to the furtherance of plans for a community hall in Sidney.

SIDNEY COMMISSION COMMENTS

(BY COMMISSIONER MRS. V. COWAN)

STREET LIGHTS

At long last the new light standard on Eighth St. at Orchard Ave. has been installed and is in working order.

PUBLIC WORKS

This past week a spray coat has been applied to the "wings" of Sixth, Seventh and San Juan Avenues. This is to prevent the finished surface from breaking away on the corners where there are intersections. A public works committee meeting will be held this week to decide on further work to be done this year. Decisions that will be made will, no doubt, please some and annoy others. But when these decisions have been made, I will try and give you the reasons so you will understand just why certain things were left undone that may have seemed important to some people.

ANONYMOUS LETTER

If my correspondent who signed himself "Disgusted" would care to identify himself, I could give him the answer to his question; or it could have been obtained from the village office. If a letter is worth writing it should be worth signing, but, however, if he (I believe it is a man) is afraid to make himself known to me, he must wait for his answer through the regular channel.

If any of our villagers missed the census-taker through holidays or other reasons, will you please contact Mrs. A. Byford at 366R. This is very important to the village as our per capita grant from the provincial government is based on the count taken by census.

P.S.: Don't forget your taxes are over-due on July 1.

SNOOKER CONTEST

Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, Sidney Unit No. 302, staged a snooker tournament which reached its close last week. Winners were F. J. McNeill and Frank MacNutt. There were 32 players taking part in the tournament.

SIDNEY BATTING IMPROVES AS TIDES TURNED

By J.R.H.

Behind the stalwart pitching of young George Brice, Hagel's of Victoria kept Sidney Freight on the short end of the score sheet on Sunday afternoon at the local park in a game which was closely contested for the first five innings. Young Brice began to tire at this point and the heavy Sidney bats, conspicuous by their absence so far this season, began to find the range. The Victoria aggregation were forced to bring in a relief pitcher to stem the tide, but it was too late and Sidney went on to win by a score of 16-7.

Outstanding for the locals was the steady pitching of young Jacobson, who also clouted to right field one of the longest hits seen at the local park this season. Lloyd Gardner, who has played outstanding ball defensively this year, also began to hit and local supporters feel Lloyd is now on his way to finish out a good strong season.

Roy Brekke also found the batting range and late in the game came within inches of putting one over the left field fence. Lou Pastro, captain of this year's Sidney team, played his usual strong game at shortstop and kept his infield on their toes to turn in their best performance of the season so far.

Officiating for the game were Murray Dunnett, of Victoria, and Ted Meredith, of Vancouver. Local fans were indeed pleased to see Ted once again and remember well the many years he gave to umpiring here in Sidney, both to the Babe Ruth and Juvenile League. Umpires of Ted's calibre are sorely missed this year throughout the league.

Next Sunday, June 24, should see one of the best games of the year when Eagles of Victoria are hosted by the local team.

Eagles are classed as a senior team and as such their standing does not count toward a play-off berth in the juvenile league. Sidney will be bolstered by the playing of their coach, Don Norbury, and we look forward to a hotly contested battle between these two clubs.

An added attraction is in store for local fans and again we send out the call for your support.

Drama Of Old West To Be Seen At Gem Theatre This Week

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Gem Theatre in Sidney, Sterling Hayden tops the cast of an exciting action drama.

Sterling Hayden co-stars with Yvonne De Carlo and Zachary Scott to head the cast of the Technicolor production, Shotgun.

Shotgun brings into focus three sharply contrasting characters. Hayden is a deputy U.S. marshal, tracking down a cold-blooded killer, who had shot down Hayden's superior officer. It is by shotgun that the tall deputy vows to get his man. On the trail he meets a half-breed girl named Abby (Yvonne De Carlo), who attaches herself to him.

Zachary Scott portrays one of the most despised characters of the old west, the bounty hunter.

The picture is filmed against the flaming background of the Arizona mesa country, where white clouds, blue skies, and the reds, blues, navies and yellows of the cliffs and mountains make a paradise for Technicolor photography.

EARLY PIONEER OF LOPEZ ISLAND PASSES

Well known pioneer resident of Lopez Island, Harry McMaster, died in his sleep last Wednesday. He was a bachelor. The deceased was born at Port Townsend in 1887 and moved to Lopez with his parents in 1889, residing there until his passing.

Photographer Retires In Sidney

Pioneer photo finisher of Vancouver Island, Miss Florence Pusey, Sidney Ave., has completed her last roll of film. It is 44 years since Miss Pusey assumed charge of a photo finishing department operated by a chain of drug stores. The Victoria house handled all films for branches in all parts of the province.

Sixteen years ago Miss Pusey left her employment and settled down to life in Sidney. During that time she has been engaged in developing and printing films in her home.

The last roll went through processing last week as Miss Pusey settled back to a full retirement from a duty she has fulfilled for nearly half a century.

The photographer recalls that 40 years ago prices for developing and printing were much as they are today. Although costs of labor and materials have increased in the meantime the standards of materials have so vastly improved that the margin for spoilage is no longer necessary. Considerable part of the cost 40 years ago was to allow for the reams of paper which never took a print.

Handling of film and prints has also advanced considerably during her time in the photography business, says Miss Pusey. Mechanical equipment has enabled an operator to do twice the amount of work without increased exertion.

Christening At West Saanich

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. MacNutt, Weiler Ave., gathered at their home on Sunday afternoon, following the christening of their four-month-old son, Gerald William. The ceremony took place at the church of the Assumption, West Saanich Road, when Rev. Fr. Camirand officiated.

The infant wore an heirloom gown of lace and eyelet embroidery. Godparents, Const. and Mrs. George Meyer, of Ottawa, were represented by proxies, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. MacNutt, of Tacoma, Wash.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. J. Paquette, High Prairie, Alta; Mr. and Mrs. J. Rainey, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hopkins, Mr. K. Georgeson, all of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Hale, of Sidney; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Hopkins, great-grandparents of the child; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bowcott and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. MacNutt. Mrs. S. Hilton, of Vancouver, the baby's great-grandmother, was unable to attend.

Final Donation

North Saanich high school Red Cross club wound up its activities last week by making a $50 donation to the central fund of the Junior Red Cross.

Earlier in the year the school collected $97 for the Solarium and purchased material for the construction of the large Red Cross clock used by the Senior Red Cross body in its spring drive for funds. Miss N. Jones has been Junior Red Cross sponsor again this year.

A Long Journey Ahead

Traveller of 1800's Never Got Dry

By F. G. R.

History is repeating itself. Recently a license for the sale of alcoholic beverages was granted to the Royal Oak establishment of Chez Ernest. The provision of an outlet for liquor at Royal Oak has set a number of old-timers thinking back to the days when the bar at Royal Oak was one of the last ports of call for the dry traveller between the north end of Saanich Peninsula and the City of Victoria.

One old-timer cast his mind back to the late 19th century, when travel into the city was achieved by means of horses, with or without wheeled vehicles in tow.

Starting from the tip of the Peninsula the man facing the 20-odd miles into the city was offered sustenance at the starting post. He could manfully face his jigger in a house at the junction of East Saanich Road and Wains Cross Road. If he were a thirsty man, his journey would take him a slightly zig-zag manner from the outset. If he were a very thirsty man there is little doubt but that he was travelling in an extremely zig-zag manner by the time he reached the city.

DEVIATION

Having gained the courage necessary to face the journey he would now veer to the West Saanich Road and make his next call at the house located at that time at the junction of Mount Newton Cross Road and West Saanich Road. The house, like the starting post, no longer stands. The bar, once laden with many brands of ancient hooch, is how a treasured souvenir of the past in the possession of the Saanich Pioneer Society.

The next port of call would be at Saanichton, so that he must head his horse eastward. At Saanichton he would hitch the animal outside the Prairie Inn. He would swagger into the bar and acquire the necessary dose to enable him to bear up until the next watering place, at Elk Lake.

At Elk Lake he would be greeted by crowds of thirsty travellers. Some would be on their way north to the distant outposts of Sidney and North Saanich. Others, like our traveller, would be heading into the city. He would stagger into the hostelry at Elk Lake and his horse could take a drink at the bountiful waters of the lake.

ANOTHER SNIFFER

The next stage of the journey took the traveller to Royal Oak. Then, as now, he could pacify the complaining stomach, sore from the extensive dry journey, by a snifter on the way.

At Swan Lake was the last port of call before he arrived in the city. This was a point of desperation. No more until he reaches his destination. The traveller would clutch his glass in frenzy and throw back a couple to prepare himself for the drought ahead.

If he were still capable of doing so he would attend to his affairs in the city preparatory to setting out for home. The traveller would topple from his saddle to tattle at the bar. Finally he would reach home, happy to have conducted his affairs and eager to get to the buffet, where he could assuage his angry thirsty with a nip before supper.

There is no question about it, Saanich Peninsula has not always provided long dry summers.

Rayon and acetate fibres, chemicals, plastics, photographic film, explosives and transparent wrapping papers are made from a highly refined form of wood pulp called high alpha cellulose.

PRIZES GIVEN AT NORTH SAANICH AS F. N. WRIGHT TROPHY TAKEN

Friday was awards day at North Saanich high school. Mrs. F. N. Wright, in an address prior to the presentation of the coveted Inter-High F. N. Wright trophy, summed up the spirit behind all the awards when she said: "It is the desire to do well and the sportsmanship that is developed along the path to an award that counts more than the actual winning of the prize." Bruce Wright, grandson of trophy donor, F. N. Wright, made the presentation to Miss Ethel Jahn, student council president.

P.T.A. awards were made by retiring president, Mrs. T. H. Jahn, and Mrs. J. N. Champion. For excellence in home economics Eileen Gardner, grade 11, received a set of pinkish shears; Willie Eng of grade 10 was presented with a draughting set and a slide rule for being the outstanding industrial art student of the year. A beautifully illustrated volume on art was Cathie Slater's reward for excellence of work in this subject. Marion Eckert's award for highest average marks in commercial studies was a pen and pencil set.

TENNIS TROPHIES

A. W. Murphy presented the track and field trophies to the six champions, Wendy Ashby, Carol Darks, Barbara North, Luigi Pastro, Lynn Christian, and John Ashby.

Helen Ross, as valedictorian for 1956, was the recipient of Readers' Digest and MacLean's magazine subscriptions for a year. As a high ranking student Georgette Scrivner received a MacLean's subscription.

To complement his $100 drama scholarship award, the school presented Robert Bader with a $25 special drama award. The presentation was made on behalf of the school by T. G. Bunch.

On behalf of the students, Council President Ethel Jahn, made a cheque presentation to school custodian, J. H. Nunn.

Omega House was declared house champion for both the Patricia Bay and the main section of the school. Members of the house received flashes to attach to their school crests.

SAANICHTON

Keating 200

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Warden, of Mount Newton Cross Road, have left to spend a week in Seattle on vacation.

Two little girls of the vicinity have celebrated birthdays recently: Mavis June Farrell on June 7, and Wenda Fisher on June 12. Both are of Simpson Road.

After 23 years of residence in Victoria and district Mr. and Mrs. Lionel S. Farrell moved back to Edmonton a year ago. Last week their son, Lionel F. Farrell, of Simpson Road, received word of the passing of his mother. He has gone back to attend the funeral and be with his father, who is 81 years of age.

Sports day for Saanichton school was enjoyed by students and parents alike last Friday. Highest aggregate for the boys' trophy was gained by Randy Isfeld and for the girls, Ann Warden and Veronica Wright tied. They will share the girls' trophy. The P.T.A. cup is to be shared by Ann Warden and Veronica Wright.

purchase of materials for the construction of the fire truck equipment.

In February, 1951, he announced that a group of public-spirited rate-payers had donated the truck to the municipality. The council at that time expressed appreciation and it was decided that a suitable expression of thanks would be made when the identities of the donors were known.

Mr. Pickles stated on Monday evening that this was an error that he missed when signing the minutes. The entry should have read in the future tense and not in the past, he stated.

THE GOAT

When no fund was raised, he became the goat, said the former reeve. He was the victim to the extent of $800.

"If there is any sense of fair play," he concluded, "this truck will be returned to me with the usual expressions of gratitude."

CENTRAL SAANICH

SPEED LIMIT OF 40 M.P.H.

Speed limit in Central Saanich is 30 m.p.h. The council was advised last week by the provincial government that limits on provincial highways could be raised by the minister to 50 m.p.h., but the municipality had authority only to raise the limit on other roads to 40 m.p.h.

Subject to the approval of the police commission a limit of 40 m.p.h. will be imposed on the following roads, though not necessarily throughout their length: Wallace Drive, Stellys Cross Road, Oldfield Road, East Saanich Road (with a 30 m.p.h. limit in Saanichton and Keating).

BRENTWOOD

Final meeting until the fall of the Brentwood Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. Parker read "The Creed of the Australian Country Women's Association" to open the meeting. Plans were made for a strawberry tea and sale of home cooking, plants and miscellaneous, to be held at the W.I. hall, West Saanich Road, on Tuesday afternoon, June 26, with Mrs. E. G. Woodward convening. A report on the 13th biennial convention of B.C. Women's Institutes was given by Mrs. W. Parker and Mrs. McFarlane, who were delegates at the convention. The president gave them a vote of thanks for their very interesting and comprehensive report. The next meeting of the institute will be on September 11. Mrs. H. Cross was the tea hostess. Mrs. J. Combe, who is attending the V.C. celebrations in London, England, was presented with the W.I. and A.C.W.V. pins by Mrs. R. Ronson, the president. A corsage was also presented to Mrs. Combe with best wishes from her fellow members of the W.I. when she left Patricia Bay Airport on Saturday.

Next Sunday the congregation of Brentwood United church will have a luncheon and social hour after the morning service, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Angus, who are leaving for a trip to eastern Canada. Rev. Angus has been the minister of the church for the past year and will preach his last sermon at 11:30 Sunday morning. It is hoped all members of the congregation will be present at the service and stay for the luncheon.

Friends of Mrs. A. Guy are pleased to know that she has returned home after a long illness. She has been a patient at the Royal Jubilee hospital for about a month. Mrs. R. Haugen's friends are also happy to hear of her return from hospital.

Mrs. Lorne Thomson, West Saanich Road, left on Sunday by plane for a trip to England. She was accompanied by Mrs. Davies of Vancouver, mother of Mrs. Ken Thomson.

Members of the Brentwood Women's Institute are hoping for a good turnout at their final affair until the fall. On Tuesday, June 26, a strawberry tea and sale will be held at their hall at 2 p.m. Many improvements have been done to the hall at great expense and the proceeds of the tea are for the building improvements fund.

BRENTWOOD GUIDES

First Brentwood Company ended the season after a very busy spring. Sylvia Smethurst passed her first class and received a friendship pin from the company. Maisie Thomas and Jean Paul were enrolled by Commissioner Mrs. F. King. Gail McKevitt passed her campers' badge, Harriet Forsberg her religion and life emblem.

On May 12, 30 patrol leaders from the Saanich division spent the day at Captain McKevitt's home, where they enjoyed a patrol leaders' day. Brentwood Senior Guides did the planning and supervising. Area Commissioner Mrs. F. Midgley and Division Commissioner Mrs. Freeman King visited the Guides in the afternoon. Mrs. F. Hearle gave the Guides a very enjoyable display of ropes and knots.

Mrs. J. Knight, Captain McKevitt, and three Brentwood Guides, Sylvia Smethurst, Gail McKevitt, Margaret Wheeler, attended the Red Cross water safety course, held at the Crystal Gardens, in May. Gail McKevitt and Sylvia Smethurst passed their intermediate swimmers' tests.

Final meeting for the season was held at Ardmore Beach, where the girls had a swim, and cooked their supper on the beach.

PATROL LEADERS' CONFERENCE

Sylvia Smethurst, of the Brentwood Guide Company, has written her impressions of the patrol leaders' conference at Brentwood recently. Here is what she writes. On Saturday, May 12, the First Brentwood Guide Company organized a day camp for patrol leaders and seconders of companies in Saanich and Sidney.

The day began at six in the morning, when 15 Brentwood girls, who had camped overnight, crawled out of warm sleeping bags into the cold air and dressed hurriedly in jeans, blouses or T-shirts, sturdy shoes and our Guide hats and belts. Then we cooked our breakfast of scrambled eggs, onions, bacon, toast and cocoa over two campfires. It tasted delicious despite a few cinders and pine needles.

We then tidied up the camp by washing the dishes, airing our sleeping bags and tidying our two tents. When the brailing was up, the tightly rolled sleeping bags and the suitcases put on logs in our tents, we proceeded to get ready for our visitors.

UNPACKING

Two girls tied the flagpole lengths together then erected it. Others unpacked the food and divided it into five groups. Guides from Prospect Lake, Tillicum, Cordova Bay, Colquitz and Deep Cove began arriving at 10 o'clock. We immediately divided them into five patrols by putting them in one straight line and having them number 1 to 5. Then we formed a horseshoe and had flag break. After everyone was acquainted with their patrol members they began gathering wood for lunch campfires. At 12:15 we sang grace and began eating hamburger stew, buns, and fruit salad. Some patrols did not cook their stew enough, but they ate it anyway. Captain McKevitt kindly made buns for us. The appetizing fruit salad contained apples, bananas, oranges and pineapple juice.

We then washed the dishes and tidied the campfires. Now we started stalking on a trail laid by two Brentwood girls before lunch. Up and down steep hills, under logs, and through brush we went. Finally the end was reached and everyone marched to camp somewhat tiredly.

After the stalking we sent the visiting Guides on a nature hike. Lists of flowers, leaves, plants and birds were handed to the patrol leaders. At the end of an hour the patrols reported to camp. Many girls came close to finding every material listed. Luckily, nobody got stung with nettles.

Then we watched a knot demonstration by Mr. Hurl. He did many interesting, useful, and fancy knots. Some of them were, turks head, splice, diamond splice and marling spike. Two girls learned these knots.

Mrs. King and Mrs. Midgley visited the camp at this time. Now we began preparing supper. In order to get food supplies, each patrol had to spell out the word in semaphore or Morse. Were some patrols a long time procuring supplies!

Then we cooked wieners stuffed with cheese and fried onions. A lettuce and tomato salad was also served. Then, watermelon, juicy and cold. After all the dishes were washed and campfires put out the Guides had a half hour of free time. The day finished with a campfire, where we sang songs, played games and ate some-mores then sang taps.

As the sun set the visiting girls drove home and we went to bed in our tents. I believe I can say for everyone—let's hope we have more of these gatherings.

NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES

MORE ambitious program of night school in the Saanich School District is planned this year. The trustees of the district have appointed a night school superintendent in the person of A. W. Murphy, who is spending many hours in preparations for courses during the coming winter months.

The only indication of success facing Mr. Murphy is the attendance which may attend his preparations. No effort is justified if no students enrol. If a good enrolment follows these initial efforts, then the program can be increased in later years. All interested residents are urged to indicate their intention of enrolling at the earliest possible opportunity. The school district has taken considerable trouble to offer these courses, all that remains is for the resident to register in the class he favors.

OUT OF THE FRYING PAN?

IN this age of aviation, recent history will indicate many types of machine which have gained fame and favor by virtue of one or more peculiar characteristics. The early machines were notable for their ability to get off the ground. During the First World War several machines were popular for the relation between performance and punishment they could inflict.

The D.C. 3 gained note for its reliability and economy of performance. The Harvard has gained note for its noise and its efficiency. Although emitting rather more noise than many contemporaries, the Harvard has long since been warmly adopted by air forces in all parts of the world for its realistic features. In its handling and its characteristics it resembles the operational aircraft more nearly than any competitor.

When we can be assured that the risk of war does not exist and full disarmament is justified, then we can dispense with the Harvard. While the pilots who fly these machines are prepared to donate their time to maintaining a state of preparedness for conflict, we can shut our ears to a nuisance and trust in our hearts that those men are destined never to be called to war.

Some day the Harvard will be obsolete. It will be replaced by a newer type. What assurance have we that its successor may not be still noisier? It may be a case of out of the frying pan and into the fire.

CONCERNING SIDEWALKS

SIDNEY'S village commission took a very wise step at its last meeting when its members agreed unanimously by vote to continue its sidewalk construction program this year. Ratepayers all over the municipality—those who are presently blessed with sidewalks and those who are still hopeful—will agree that the decision was a most sound one. The program must be continued every year until a sidewalk serves every household.

It was indicated at the meeting that funds may not be available for a substantial mileage of new sidewalks this year. While this fact is regrettable, it must be realized that Rome wasn't built in a day and neither will Sidney. But if only half a dozen blocks of new sidewalks are built this year, the ratepayers will not complain, we are certain. The sidewalk program will still be continuing. Next year may see several miles of walks constructed.

Every householder in the municipality is entitled to a sidewalk. The commission realizes this and is acting accordingly.

TIME FOR ACTION

SEVERAL months ago a number of operators of boat-houses on the Brentwood waterfront applied for shore leases in order to legalize their operations.

The applications brought to light innumerable factors concerning the waterfront. It developed that the park board, dormant and apparently extinct, since the incorporation of Central Saanich, was a live and operative organization, wielding authority over the strip of parkland running along the beach parallel with Beach Drive.

A number of property owners appeared before the council objecting to extension of the boat-houses and facilities along the water's edge. The objectors all agreed on one point. They had no wish to see the operators out of business. They sought to restrict expansion only.

The leases were approved on one occasion. They were then rejected again. They have now been suspended while further investigation takes place.

This week a report was heard of an operator carrying out repairs to his wharf without a permit. It was then noted that the council was powerless because "Mr. Burns, of the provincial parks department" had ruled that no permits were to be granted at the present time.

When will Mr. Burns permit the council to resume jurisdiction? Must we await an accident or even a fatality? Are these businesses to be closed? These questions arise when the council states that its hands are tied by a civil servant's ruling. No one in the area, operator or resident, can be satisfied of the future until some concrete ruling is made. If the ruling is to be made by the provincial government, then let us see the appropriate minister take action, instead of being delayed by the member of his staff whose only contribution to date has been a negative one.

Editor, Review,

Sir:

Your editorial, "Price of Haircuts", in last week's Review, has led me seriously to think. You are right—why pay $1.25 for snipping off a few bits of hair, or for a few strands of grey hairs? In fact, why get hair cut at all?

To come to the point, I am quite willing to join with a bevy of prominent

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO

William Sutherland, 26-year-old logger was crushed when he was struck by a sapling during logging operations on Galiano Island on Saturday morning. The injured man was taken to Lady Minto hospital at Ganges, by G. W. George, where his progress is reported as satisfactory. The injured man was engaged with Garner Brothers.

Curtains and wallpaper were ruined when lightning struck the home of Mrs. M. Gyves, Burgoyne Valley, early on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Gyves was in her kitchen when she was deafened by a clap of thunder. The battery of her radio was thrown across the room and broke a window. Power and telephone connections to the house were destroyed. The kitchen curtains were burned and the paper on the walls was seared. The lightning struck the aerial outside the house.

Mrs. Owens, of Vancouver, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jackson, at Montague Harbor, Galiano Island. She is accompanied by her son, Gnr. Noel Owens, who recently returned from overseas.

Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Miller, with their baby son returned home to Portland on Tuesday after spending a few days at Fulford where they have been visiting Dr. Miller's Edward Bosworth, employee of the Lake Logging Co., of Cowichan Lake, was killed instantly in a logging accident at the company's up-Island operations on Tuesday evening. Mr. Bosworth was employed at Sidney Lumber Co. for a number of years and also spent several years on Salt Spring Island, where he lived with his mother, Mrs. McLennan. His wife is the former Genevieve Ricketts, of Sidney.

Sidney Businessmen's Association will press for new industries in the district.

Sidney Trading Co., Ltd., celebrated its 25th year of operation this week. The company was formed in June, 1911, by the amalgamation of three businesses. Closely identified with the early company were J. J. White, R. B. Brethour and C. C. Cochran. G. A. Cochran later arrived here from Medicine Hat, Alta., to take part in the operations.

Officers elected by the Islands District Liberal Association on Wednesday in Sidney, were: honorary president, Dr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King; honorary vice-presidents, Hon. T. D. Pattullo and Alex. McDonald, M.L.A.; president, W. M. Moutat, Ganges; vice-president, J. J. White, Sidney; secretary-treasurer, C. H. Wagg, Ganges. Dinner was served to the 35 delegates attending by Mrs. E. L. McKenzie, Mrs. R. Coward, Miss L. Woods and Miss M. Primeau.

P. G. Copeland returned to the Cavannah Lighthouse at Clo-ose, on Monday last week, after spending his holidays at his Saturna Island home.

Sheldon Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Mooney, Marine Drive, is a patient at Rest Haven hospital, where he has undergone an appendix operation. Bernard Baldwin, Marine Drive, is also a patient in that hospital, suffering from the same complaint.

Rev. and Mrs. William Allen, Glyn Road, Saanich, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Ann Ogilvie, to Colin Francis Moutat, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert J. Moutat, Ganges. The wedding will take place in Wilkinsons Road United church on Wednesday, July 8.

Stewart Hill is in charge of the Avenue Cafe, Sidney, in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Godfrey.

Motor Princess will commence the summer ferry run between Sidney and Steveston on Saturday. A busy season is predicted by the C.P.R. operators of the vessel.

AN ERROR

Editor, Review,

Sir:

A paragraph in my letter to your paper, which was published on April 18 last contains an error made in the process of typing the letter from my rough draft. Three words are missing in one sentence which should have read: "A truck and other equipment of a total value of about $800, the use of which was donated to our fire department by one individual." The missing words are: "the use of." This error has only come to my attention yesterday.

MAGIC SEASONS

Editor, Review,

Sir:

May I, through your paper, offer my sincere thanks to everyone who worked so hard to make Magic Seasons a success.

Our reporter was not aware of all the organizations helping us so our thanks go to the Deep Cove P.T.A., Peninsula Players, Guides, Art Centre, Sidney Costume Centre, for those who made our tickets, posters and programs.

Special thanks to John Gray whose expert handling of the lighting arranged by him and D. Rogers truly turned the stage into a fairyland.

To my fellow-workers, for the beautiful everlasting moments of the operetta (you gave me, thank you).

IN GRATITUDE

Editor, Review,

Sir:

Permit me through the columns of your paper to express my thanks and appreciation to John Oster and his Victoria Polyettes, the Sidney Hotel football team, and all my friends in Sidney and Victoria who have helped and donated on my behalf.

In my 12 years of active participation in football I have met and played with a great many wonderful people, and I hope that in the future they will join with me in supporting one of our national games.

There's A Limit

(Sidney Post-Record)

The best protection against unfriendly dogs, declares the postmaster of Sacramento, Calif., is a warning dog. The Sacramento postmen—victims of 96 biting cases last year—are taking his advice. They make friends with the biggest dog in the neighborhood where they deliver mail, and get the post to go along with them on the route.

Very well, but that need not be the only solution of a difficulty that besets postmen in many cities. Why could not the proper authorities make a ruling that citizens who keep unchained dangerous beasts in their yards, cannot have letters delivered to their doors? Such people presumably are as capable of walk-particularly fierce with the approach of D-Day. After the squadron moved to the Orkneys, Alex Davidson was posted to a Typhoon conversion course. Later he went to Tempests with 274 Squadron, R.A.F. His recollection is that the squadron was one of the crack British squadrons with an impressive record of achievement throughout the war. He was with Tempests when he was posted back to Canada in 1945. He arrived back home before VE Day and was released in June, 1945.

INTO COMMERCE

For a year he attended U.B.C. and then returned to his native Edmonton to assume a new career in the construction and maintenance field. His association with aviation stayed with him and in 1947 he enlisted with the navy reserve. The following year he accepted a short service appointment with the navy and was posted to Patricia Bay in command of VC 922 Reserve Squadron. At the conclusion of his service the unit was well established and he joined the staff of Fairley Aviation Co. of Canada Ltd. at Patricia Bay Airport to serve as test pilot. If variety is the spice of life, then his life is spicy, for he flies machines of every type and characteristic in his new field.

While he was in Vancouver in 1946 Alex turned his attention away from the sky long enough to marry a Vancouver girl. They now have two children, a boy and girl, and are very happy to be able to live on Vancouver Island, "a good place to bring up a family."

MILK BY-LAW

Milk by-law, permitting the sale of raw milk in the municipality, was finally adopted by Central Saanich council last week.

Preliminary Plans Are Set For Library Vote

Ratepayers of Central Saanich will be invited this year to express a preference for different types of library service.

Last week, Central Saanich council decided to approach the Greater Victoria Public Library with a view to ascertaining the different types of service the board might be willing to extend to the municipality.

The alternatives suggested were the present system of bookmobile and service direct from the public library building in Victoria; a reduced service by the bookmobile and a service from the Victoria building and a service entirely omitting the bookmobile.

Councillor P. F. Warren stated that he had attended the recent meeting of the Greater Victoria inter-municipal committee, representing all lower island municipalities. The committee had at that time approved a new financing scheme whereby the charges for library services would be based on a per capita charge of 50 cents and a further charge on circulation.

DISPARITY

He had withheld approval on behalf of Central Saanich. He explained that he had reported to the committee the objection of Central Saanich to the cost of the service. He cited the comparison between fees paid by Central Saanich and those paid by Esquimalt. The former had a population of slightly over 2,000 and paid $6,000. Esquimalt, with a population of 10,000 paid $8,000 annually.

Reeve H. R. Brown asserted that schoolchildren took books from the bookmobile which they never read. He cited an instance of one mother who reported that her children brought home three and four books at a time and rarely read one. Councillor J. B. Windsor countered that the librarians did not normally permit the borrowing of more than two books at a time.

A plebiscite will be held in December and ratepayers will decide the fate of the service. Bookmobile was rejected in a referendum held last December. Wording of the plebiscite will be decided when more information is available.

PENDER PICNIC

GROUND IS SOUGHT

Officials of the Pender Island Golf and Country Club and directors of the Farmers' Institute met in the Hope Bay hall on Friday evening to discuss mutual aims in providing a public picnic grounds and community centre on the island. Arrangements to meet on the site of Country Club property Sunday afternoon had to be cancelled, owing to weather, but a meeting will be held during this week, and a decision reached.

Later the executive of the institute held a directors' meeting, under the chairmanship of W. D. Gill, acting president, to discuss plans for welcoming reception for the inaugural trip of the Motor Princess, later this month. Arrangements were left to the transportation and publicity committees.

W. L. Shirley, chairman of the light and power committee, reported that the advance crew of the B.C. Power Commission would be on Pender by the end of June, and arrangements for board and sleeping accommodation for this and subsequent crews, must be made. Names of local men available for power construction work are being received by institute secretary, George Pearson.

ing as are postmen. Let the owners of biting animals go to the post office for their mail, and fetch home their own groceries too. There surely is a limit to what can be tolerated from some dog-owners and their hounds.

Sweepstakes

(Ottawa Journal)

Only sanctimonious humbug could make one say that buying of sweepstake tickets is confined to gamblers or people of low morals; they are bought often enough by good citizens. But it is one thing to "take a flier" on a sweepstake ticket and quite another thing to contemplate sweepstake tickets as a state enterprise for the support of hospitals—or for any other good object.

DRIVES 3,200 MILES EVERY YEAR TO GET AWAY FROM TORONTO

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Taylor of Toronto have established some kind of a record in commuting between Toronto, an Ontario centre, and Sidney, a corresponding metropolis in British Columbia.

In the year 1946 they flew to Sidney to visit relatives here. Since that time they have driven out every year but one, piling up a total of 32,800 miles on five different cars to enjoy the delights of visiting in Sidney. This is considerably farther than the distance around the earth at the equator.

Mr. Taylor is personnel manager of Northern Electric Co. in Toronto. He controls the destinies of a very large number of employees and presumably instructs them all on the desirability of visiting Sidney. In this regard he sets them an unparalleled example.

FOUR SISTERS

Mrs. Taylor is the sister of Mrs. Jesse Stilwell, Mrs. Arthur Stilwell and Mrs. Fred Tanton, all of Sidney. The four girls have enjoyed these annual reunions to the full.

In 1946 the Taylors first braved the perils of visiting the Canadian west. They travelled by air. Having thus satisfied themselves that their lives were in no particular danger, they ventured to drive out in 1947. The trip saw them travel about 3,200 miles. They repeated their journey in 1948, '49, '50, '51, '52, '54, '55 and '56. What happened in 1953? The Taylors went east to visit the Taylors.

"I like Sidney and have formed many friendships here," said Mr. Taylor to The Review this week. "We are very comfortable in the Craigmyle Motel."

While in Toronto, between visits in Sidney, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor read The Review. They compare it very favorably with the Globe and Mail, The Telegram and The Star.

MORE ABOUT MOSES

the long-established Moses Farm at Drop Cove. It is presently operated by his sister, Miss Grace Moses, retired school teacher. Other survivors include his widow, Madge of Victoria; a daughter, Mrs. Lorne Gillard of Nanaimo; and another sister, Mrs. Irene Fredette of Victoria.

As a youth, the deceased was keenly interested in athletics of all kinds. Because he was raised in aquatic surroundings, he took a particularly intensive interest in rowing. He won a myriad of prize ribbons as a rower. He also made a name for himself at English rugby and other competitive sports.

Inspector Moses joined the old B.C. Provincial Police and served with it until it was taken over by the R.C.M.P. and subsequently. He was in charge of the accounts branch in Ottawa until ill health forced his transfer back to Victoria. He had been hospitalized frequently during the past year.

More than 200 friends attended the last rites on Saturday, assembling at Hayward's funeral home at 2 p.m. Members of the R.C.M.P. in scarlet uniforms were present in numbers. At the graveside a 14-man rifle party fired three rounds and a bugler of the Queens Own Rifles sounded the Last Post.

Sidney Day Is July 2.

DR. HAROLD JOHNS IS SPEAKER AT SALT SPRING HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION BANQUET

Grade 12 students of the Salt Spring school were guests of honor at a banquet given in the school on Friday and followed by a dance in the Mahon hall.

Other guests included Dr. H. P. Johns, inspector of schools in this district, Mrs. Johns, Mrs. Joyce Parsons, as representative of the H.M.S. Ganges Chapter, I.O.E., Mrs. A. Wolfe-Milner, president of the Legion Auxiliary, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ashlee, representing the Salt Spring P.T.A., Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jackson, representing the Fulford P.T.A., Mervyn Gardner, chairman of the Board of School Trustees, parents of the graduates and teachers of Grade 12.

The banquet room was most attractively decorated in pastel shades, with drop ceiling of multi-colored streamers, lighted tapers embedded in moss and banked with peonies and columbines. The program was designed in school colors by the art class, decorating by the Grade Nine art class, under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Everell and typing by commercial students under Mrs. E. C. Sinclair.

DECISIONS

The address to the graduates was given by Dr. Johns, who stressed the idea that for the first time in their lives pupils would now be called upon to make really important decisions. A vote of thanks to Dr. Johns was moved by Marie Bennett, who remarked that several classes had wished to have the honor of hearing Dr. Johns, but the Class of 1956 is the first to have had that wish fulfilled.

Toasts were proposed by Gilbert Mout, Pat Lee and Richard Crawford. Thanks to the servers was expressed by Josette Brown and to the Fulford and Ganges Parent-Teachers' Associations by Evelyn Russell.

The class prophet, Ian Foubister, foresees arduous and unexpected tasks for this year's graduates.

The banquet was convened by Miss Reta Oulton and Miss O.

Mout with the assistance of Mrs. C. Beech, Mrs. Mary Follows, Mrs. E. Ashlee, Mrs. M. White, Mrs. J. Netherfield, Mrs. J. B. Foubister, Mrs. D. Toms and Mrs. M. Des Marais.

Girls serving were Penny Trelford, Sheila Milner, Julie Coles, Wendy Morris, Sharon Crofton, Donna White, Anne Hollings, Jennifer Graham and Elaine McDonald.

GRADUATION DANCE

The graduation dance followed. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Johns, members of the 1956 graduating class, teachers and high school pupils.

The hall was decorated with balloons and streamers of mauve, pale pink and yellow and with ferns and flowers. Frank Tahouney was in charge of decorations while Norman Brooks conceived the refreshment committee.

Music was supplied by Ratcliff's orchestra from Duncan.

GANGES

Mrs. N. Morton arrived last Thursday from West Vancouver to spend a fortnight on Salt Spring Island, where she is a guest at Aclands.

Miss Emily Smith left Tantramar, Vesuvius Bay, on Friday, to spend some days in Vancouver visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

Miss Nonie Shove has returned to Victoria after a week-end visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Shove.

Guests registered at Harbour House: Mrs. D. Luson, P. O'Hara, H. Pherrin, F. Crompton, R. Bemontigny, B. Mifflin, M. Bemwelf, P. Procter, Charles Lone, E. J. Harrison, Mrs. Griffin and son, W. C. SCOUTS AND CUBS HOLD JOINT MEETING HERE

On June 14 the First Ganges Boy Scout Troop and Cub Pack held a joint meeting on the occasion of four Cubs going up to the troop.

The Cubs, Colin Booth, Cameron Cartwright, Les Patchett and John Sturdy, were wished "good hunting" by the pack and welcomed into the Scout troop by Scoutmaster J. A. Green.

The scoutmaster, with Cubmistress Mrs. De Long, then enrolled Mrs. K. Renwick as a member of the Scout organization and assistant cubmistress to the pack. The Scouts and Cubs joined together for a period of games.

As a number of parents and friends of the group were present the scoutmaster outlined recent activities of the troop which included a swimming party and campfire at Vesuvius Bay, thanks to Captain Layard.

The troop has been studying seamanship under A.S.M. Gerry Rudnick and is working to obtain a troop boat.

The gathering closed with a campfire and sing-song.

MAYNE

Work has been started on the road this week cutting down the trees to make room for the electric light poles. Four men engaged in the job are staying at Mayne Island Lodge and two at the Anchorage.

The roads will look rather denuded for the time being, although in some cases it will improve the view. At any rate, the long-awaited light is dawning.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett have been down to Ganges twice this last week; first to the graduation of their two daughters, Marie and Peggie, and the second time to the graduation dance on Thursday.

Mrs. Murrell has had a friend, Mrs. McLachlin, from Crawford Bay, B.C., visiting her this past week. She had never visited the coast before and was very taken with the beautiful scenery among the islands. Mrs. McLachlin was the winner of the door prize at the tea given by the ladies' auxiliary to the Legion.

Mrs. Gardner, who is in St. Mary's hospital in New Westminster, underwent an operation to her eye.

Mrs. Murrell returned from Lady Minto hospital at Ganges on Friday where he had been for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bennett wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to their many friends for the beautiful flowers and kind sympathy sent in their recent bereavement. Also to the pallbearers, Stanley Robson, Wilbert Deacon, Harry Georgeson, Fred Hanson, N. Atkinson, Robert Aitken.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTES

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

CHERRY DROP

At this time of year some gardeners may note that a considerable number of cherries drop. These fruits are small and often dark brown. If these small fruits are cut open it will be seen that there is seldom any well developed seed in the pit. This drop is normal unless most or all of the fruits fall off. The fruits drop because they have not been pollinated and without pollination the fruit will not develop.

Cherry trees do not pollinate themselves. This means that it is necessary to have at least two varieties to insure a good yield.

WINTER INJURY

Some chacking and lifting of the bark of cherry trees has been noted in this area. This was due to the severe November freeze. The affected trees may wilt during the summer. Unfortunately there is little that can be done to save these trees.

PRUNING TOMATOES

Pruning tomatoes is a simple operation, but one which is frequently found puzzling by the amateur gardener. There are two main types of tomatoes, the dwarf, determinate, or self-pruning type on the one hand, and the indeterminate or staking type on the other.

It is important to know which you are dealing with, for varieties of the former class should be left unpruned and unstaked for best results. The latter is most frequently trained to a single stem in this district. The procedure consists of breaking off the young shoots appearing in the axils of the leaves, but taking care to leave the terminal growth intact. When these shoots are small, they will break off very readily. If permitted to become large, however, their removal is far more difficult, and attempts to break them off may result in damage being done to the adjacent leaf or a portion of the main stem. Cutting off the shoot with a sharp knife often becomes essential in such cases.

Usually from six to nine leaves above the ground are developed before the first blossom cluster appears. This blossom cluster is followed by three more leaves, then another blossom cluster, and this sequence repeated.

In an average season four or five trusses of fruit will ripen. It is a good practice to nip out the terminal growth immediately after the third leaf following the fifth truss. This tends to make those fruits, already set, ripen more quickly.

HAY AND SILAGE CROPS

Exceptionally dry sunny weather during April and May resulted in poor growth of grass-legume hay and silage crops. In many cases these crops flowered before making adequate growth. In order to obtain maximum yields per acre these crops should have been harvested in the flowering stage in order to encourage growth of aftermath. Unfortunately dull, damp weather in early June has made the curing of hay difficult and as a result hay fields have not been cut.

These fields should be cut as soon as possible as soil moisture is relatively high at present and a good growth of aftermath should be realized. On mineral soils an application of ammonium nitrate at 150 pounds per acre immediately following cutting will substantially increase the possibilities for a good growth of aftermath.

In some instances grass-legume fields were cut for silage or pastured during May or early June. Where this procedure was followed and fields were fertilized with ammonium nitrate following grazing or cutting good growth of grazing

UP ON THE WAYS

Mainly of Marine and Mariners

(By Deckhand)
Judging from the complimentary remarks around the floats on Sunday evening made by yachtsmen who participated in the ladies' log race and gathering at Lyall Harbor, the women's auxiliary of the Capital City Yacht Club has succeeded again.

Before going into details, here are the winners. Mrs. Cyril Conington and Mrs. Glen Smith (joint owners of Tum Tum, a Shoal Harbor cruiser), came first with an error of 3.57 per cent, so have captured the Edna Henshall perpetual trophy for a year and have also won an eye-appealing silver copper-trimmed carafe and stand.

Mrs. Dick Cox of Tide II came second with an error of 5.07 per cent and won a smart traveling clock, and 12-year-old Sylvia Molesworth won the consolation prize, skipping the outboard cruiser, Sabre II. Door prizes, donated by Capt. P. E. Lewis of Coal Island, were won by Mrs. B. F. Rogers, first mate of the Jo-Mar, and Mrs. Percy Pitt, of the Siesta.

There was a good turnout. Twenty-two ships of all sizes ranging from the 110-foot Stranger II owned by Capt. P. E. Lewis to the A. L. Molesworth's 18-foot Sabre II. Favorable weather made the crossing from Canoe Cove to Lyall Harbor a pleasant one and a safe anchorage for the night enabled skippers and crews to relax and enjoy the evening's festivities. A word of commendation should go to the committee in charge; to the president, Mrs. N. Hill; vice-president, Mrs. E. H. Henshall; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Edith Rogers, and grateful thanks from all concerned to Mrs. Clair Watts, who took charge of the catering in such a capable manner.

ALL WEEK-END

A few brave souls stayed at Canoe Cove and worked all week-end. The J. C. K. Fieldens put in long hours on Meko, scrubbing and sanding. E. C. Clark worked on the ways painting his Lazy Gal, but managed to slip away in the dighy at 6 a.m. and hook a 10-lb. 15-oz. salmon off Dock Island. Rhys Davis was hard at it finishing the decks on Leonanne, having just had his staunch little 16-footer on the ways for scrubbing and painting.

David Angus had a fibreglass Bell Buoy on the ways for a quick bottom brush-up; Knapp Island's Artist was painted this week; also George Master's Gannet II. Col. Aubrey Kent's Onaway II was up for a propeller switch and Knapp Island's Shanty teased the ways all one morning changing propellers at least three times until she found one which enabled her to travel without getting wet.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Brigrance and family are up here again from Everett, in their 42-foot cruiser, Rebel. Weather permitting, they hope to meander through the Gulf Islands during the next month, on their way up to Princess Louise Inlet.

Have you seen the new aluminum boat hooks? They are an asset to

NORTH-WEST PASSAGE

The North-West Passage was a mariner's dream for centuries, but not until 1850 was it discovered by Captain McClure. And it was not successfully navigated until 1906, when Amundsen took the sloop "Gjøa" safely through from east to west.

housewives who were unable to locate an article they required for their homes. One housewife would deplore the lack of a stove she sought. Another would harangue him concerning the stove she could not dispose of. In this manner he became an unpaid agent for the disposal and acquisition of various articles.

GOT WISE

This went on for quite a time. Then Eskimo got wise to himself. Instead of passing on the information, he would acquire the surplus article. In some cases he would sell it en route. In other cases it would be stored at home until an enquiry was forthcoming in the same direction. So quickly did the purchases build up that Eskimo soon had a fair-sized collection of items ready on hand. The merchandising of food went to one side. The growing of berries was held up by the storage of property.

The new venture was a snowball. In no time the storage facilities were overloaded. The collection of merchandise carried by the new trading post soon overflowed from the buildings which housed them. A new system was introduced. The goods were placed in the open. Later they are sorted and set out in the buildings.

From all parts of Vancouver Island, even from across the continent, customers arrive to browse around and examine his stock. Eskimo has come south, and he likes it.

In addition to the trading post, Eskimo breeds dogs and cats and the visitor is always liable to run into a goose or a duck or one of the farm creatures around the place.

When in Yorkshire, Eskimo was told one of the tricks of poaching. The poachers in that distant country, he was informed, throw aniseed on the water to attract salmon. The taking of the fish is then simple. The south side of his home is banked by a heavy growth of aniseed. Despite innumerable attempts, Eskimo has never taken a fish by the means recommended.

moved south. Situated on a nine-acre farm, the trading post is a solid collection of everything under the sun. Hundreds of stoves look out upon easy chairs, bedding, chests, phonographs, kitchen utensils, books and automobiles.

In the building where the wares have been sorted out are numerous toasters, books, crockery, utensils and electrical appliances. At the far end is an early phonograph, complete with cylindrical records. On the ceiling is a complete artificial leg.

It was not always this way. When the Second World War broke out Eskimo made his plans accordingly. He was soon serving with the R.C. A.F. He remained a ground technician until the end of the war, serving overseas for several years. When he returned to civilian life he acquired the Veyaness Road farm. His next project was the establishment of a regular clientele for the sale of fish, eggs and rabbits.

After a steady canvass of the district, Eskimo built up a round with 400 customers. He sold fish, eggs and rabbits, though not necessarily in that order. During his travels he heard many tales of woe from

More Coffee?

Brazil has been testing portable aluminum irrigation systems to increase the coffee crop. Results are startling: yield per tree is more than doubled. Even if applied only to half of Brazil's coffee crop, production would be increased by 3,700,000 bags!

Our own Canadian farmers have found endless ways to use Canadian aluminum: Piping for orchards, field crops and stock ... foil for mulching ... roofing and siding for barns, brooders and silos ... cans and pails for dairy farms.

Canadian output of primary aluminum is being further increased to supply the makers of these and a thousand other products useful in agriculture, industry, defence and the home. ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD. (ALCAN)

The Abbott family will never freeze. A conservative estimate would place their collection of stoves in the hundreds. All kinds, all varieties, all conditions, there are stoves to suit every taste.

With a guarantee of warmth and the certainty that there will always be youngsters around to get in their hair, they have found a pleasant way of making a living. They have also found contentment.

Central Saanich has long been the home of the famed Butchart Gardens, one of the world's most outstanding tourist attractions. The same municipality, through Eskimo's untiring efforts, is now the home of what may well be the world's largest and most diversified outdoor market. Never a day passes without dozens of visitors calling to inspect the merchandise and its novel display.

FLOWER SHOW IS ADVANCED TO AUGUST 16

Regular meeting of the Women's Association of the Ganges United church was held in the church hall with Mrs. J. D. Reid presiding and Miss Helen Dean taking the devotional period.

The chief business under discussion was the changing of the date for the forthcoming flower show, which has been advanced a week and will now take place on Thursday, Aug. 16, in the basement of the church and will include, in addition to gladioli, dahlias and asters among the exhibits. Tea will be served during the afternoon in the church hall.

A letter of thanks from Mrs. F. H. May was read acknowledging the gift sent to her by the W.A.

A report of the A.O.T.S. dinner was given by the president, who also entertained the members with an amusing reading entitled "The Ladies' Aid."

The next meeting of the organization will be held on Thursday, Sept. 6. Following adjournment tea was served by Mrs. C. J. Zenkie and Mrs. A. Pirie.

Socreds Commend Island Scenery

A. R. Cox, second vice-president, of the Nanaimo and Islands Social Credit Constituency Association, and Mrs. Cox, secretary-treasurer, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Doug. Dane, at Fulford for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Cox have been visiting many of the residents around the Islands and were enthusiastic in their praise of the scenery surrounding Salt Spring and the other Islands. They returned to Nanaimo this week.

Help Sidney erect a new community hall—attend Sidney Day, July 2.

FIREMEN DINE IN SIDNEY

Firemen of the Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department were hosted by two members of the community they serve on Thursday evening of last week.

When 40 diners took their places in the fire hall a turkey dinner was served to the firemen, their wives and guests. The turkeys had been donated by Marshall Turkey Farm of Deep Cove and the dinner was cooked by Eddy Eng and his family, of the Beacon Cafe in Sidney.

Guests included Miss M. C. Enos and a number of her telephone operators from the Sidney exchange of the B.C. Telephone Co.

SUCCESSFUL TEA AT MAYNE ISLAND

A substantial sum will be added to the building fund of the Gulf Islands Legion hall on Mayne Island, through the efforts of the ladies' auxiliary.

Under the capable management of Mrs. Guy Gilman, a well attended afternoon tea and sale of home cooking was held on Thursday in the community hall. A number of ladies came from Galiano Island, including Mrs. Hilary and Mrs. Jones, who very kindly entertained during the tea with musical selections.

Saturday Island ladies were unable to attend owing to their heavy duties preparing for their lamb barbecue to be held on July 1, but a generous donation was brought over by Dr. J. Hallows.

Mrs. Hume, of Galiano Island, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Lord poured tea during the afternoon.

The door prize was won by Mrs. McLachin, a visitor to the Island from Crawford Bay, Kootenay Lake, and Mrs. Maynard won the tombola.

ISLAND LADIES SEND CLOTHING TO VICTORIA

Mrs. W. Norton presided at the regular meeting of the Salt Spring Island Women's Auxiliary, held in the parish hall at Ganges, and, with Mrs. Edward Adams, took the devotional period.

It was arranged to hold the Little Helpers' annual meeting on Friday, June 22, when, following a short service taken by Archdeacon G. H. Holmes in St. George's church, they will be entertained to tea by the members of the W.A. in the parish hall.

The dorcas secretary, Mrs. Smith Frost, reported sending a large parcel of clothing to dorcas headquarters in Victoria.

Arrangements were made for the annual parish fete on August 1, at which Mrs. Adams will preside over the W.A. needlework stall.

A donation of $10 was sent to the Anglican Theological College and $5 to the "Fellowship of the Arctic". The next meeting will be held on Friday, July 13.

Following adjournment, tea was served by Mrs. Norton and Mrs. H. C. Carter.

CAMPBELL HEADS GALIANO ROD AND GUN CLUB

Annual meeting of the Galiano Rod and Gun Club was held at the hall recently. Elected to the presidency was W. Campbell.

Other officers are: vice-president, E. W. Lee; secretary, A. Steward; treasurer, P. Denroche; those appointed to the executive committee are W. Gamman, F. Robson, R. Parmenter, J. Cook, L. Booth.

A fishing derby was planned for a day in August, under the direction of E. Lee and P. Denroche.

Fred Robson was assigned to the position of range captain.

Two second-hand traps were purchased from the Cowichan Valley Rod and Gun Club for use on the range at Galiano.

MARK GOLDEN WEDDING WITH FAMILY REUNION

Being unable to attend their parents' recent golden wedding anniversary, the family of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Baker entertained in their honor on Sunday afternoon at Ganges.

There were 60 guests present and the house was gay with early summer flowers, the day being lovely, tea was served on the lawn; the anniversary cake centred the table at which Mrs. C. J. Zenkie poured.

The family, who were all visiting the Island for the reunion and celebrated the occasion by presenting their parents with the gift of a television set, included F.O. and Mrs. F. H. Baker with Holly and Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker with David and Paul, and Miss Freulida Baker.

NIGHT LOGGERS

An old superstition among certain natives of Central and South America is that mahogany trees should be cut by the light of the moon because, according to this theory, they're sounder, freer of sap and of a richer color at night than during the day. Actually, the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association says, this belief has no basis in fact.

Artificial flowers may be made to look like new by placing them over the steam of boiling water for a few minutes.

GULF ISLANDS ARE FEATURED IN RECENT ISSUE OF PACIFIC COAST YACHT JOURNAL

Writing in the May issue of "Sea and Pacific Motor Boat", Bob Walters extolls the beautiful islands of San Juan, in the United States, and the Gulf of Georgia on the Canadian side of the line.

The author writes of a trip to the islands, taking him from Seattle on an 18-day cruise. He and his family travelled in a 20-foot Bryant cruiser, equipped with twin Evinrudes.

The trip commenced from Seattle's government locks in the morning and the boat tied up at Reid Island 5 1/2 hours later. The first day of the trip brought the cruiser, Davy W, to Orcas Island, one of the ports on the Sidney-Anacortes ferry run.

Next morning the party left in rain and limited visibility for Sidney. After an indirect trip via Moresby and Coal Island, they checked in at the Canadian customs port in Sidney.

"We headed right out for Genoa Bay, where we spent two days with the finish of the international cruiser race. We eased past Canoe Cove, home of the Capital City Yacht Club, but stopped there overnight on the way home. Put it down as a certain stop for your cruising. Good supplies, marine railway, quaint and protected. So typical of this hospitality was the mooring float we eased into, which had a sign tacked to the float deck, reading: 'Will not return until 3 p.m. Monday, use this float.' This is real courtesy."

The author then speaks of the trip to Cowichan and Genoa Bay, where there were nearly 150 yachts taking part in the festivities.

THE LONG WAY

"Then we took the long way around Salt Spring Island to Ganges. Stocked up here and, among other things, bought a choice beef roast to cook over at Montague Harbor the next day. That night at Ganges we went to the show, a technical comedy. The screen looked about the size of a home movie screen and there were all of a half-dozen seats on each side of this little theatre. We had a lot of fun."

"In going over to Montague Harbor, which is inside Galiano Island and north of Active Pass, we did a lot of easy cruising and zig-zagging around. We went through Active Pass, stopped in Sturdies Bay where there are good facilities and a fine inn. At Sturdies Bay about 15 Seattle cruisers hove-to during the time we were there. Then we eased around into Whaler Bay. Next, we watched the Princess boat from Vancouver to Victoria drive right through the pass without slowing a notch, followed by a big Standard Oil tanker. Then we took a slow, lazy cruise into Montague."

"It was really hot this day. We went to the northwest end of Montague Harbor where an old homestead, now gone, has left its mark. There was a big maple tree near the beach; so we ran the boat in, unloaded our food and stove, and spent a never-to-be-forgotten afternoon in the "shade of the old maple tree" cooking and eating, swimming and lying about. We had a full-course roast beef dinner during the afternoon right there on the beach."

"We learned, too, from those with a small Canadian boat that put in, that a fine spring was handy to the beach and we enjoyed the clear, fresh water."

"Dick Davidson and family, aboard the Starbright, were at anchor and that night they invited us over for a visit. Their boys had been enjoying two dinghies, one rigged for sail, the other with outboard power, while the 40-foot yawl laid at anchor."

"Gregarious Ev Landon and the gang put in that night with the Landmark from Tacoma."

TO BOOT COVE
"The next morning we upped anchor in Montague Harbor and headed southeast past Active Pass for Boot Cove on Saturna Island. Latham Goble had told us to be sure and go into his favorite Boot Cove. It is a very interesting spot. High rock cliffs border a triangular harbor and the small but ample entrance, almost a rock gate, hardly appears when at a distance. It is one of those entrances where you find your deep water by watching the kelp beds."

"As we came out we spotted a brand new Privateer with twin Johnsons for power, crossing our path outside Boot Cove. We thought it might be friends, so hailed 'em down. Turned out to be Alec Moleworth from Sidney, with his wife and son, and they were delivering some controls to a Johnson motor customer in the vicinity. I can't think of a more pleasant delivery chore on a sunny, summer day. We tied up and visited for about an hour, comparing cruising notes and so on."

"We made a few more cruises—jaunts, wandered back to Maple Bay, finally down to Canoe Cove. Checked out at Sidney with the customs and, then into Friday Harbor customs, after a rough passage on a Monday."

The entire 15 days of the trip required $87 for gas and oil.

COMPARE NOTES
"Bill Bryant, Millie, their son Gary and Ricki (the pooch) entered the International Cruiser Race with their 20-foot, twin outboard Bryant cruiser; then covered much of the same area we did, though we didn't see them once we left Genoa Bay. They were cruising 18 days. We told Bill the gist of this—where to go?—what to find?—article and asked him to fill in on his preferences in this Gulf Island area.

"In general they drew a line from Sidney to Nanaimo, much like we did. Genoa Bay, Maple Bay, Telegraph, Boat Pass, Ladysmith, Evening Cove, Nanaimo, Silva Bay on Gabriola, Portier Pass, Boot Cove, Ganges Harbor, Pender, Canoe Cove, Butchart Gardens, Sidney and home."

"You can find all these on the charts. Many I have already mentioned. Picking out the highlights, without order of visit, they enjoyed South Pender Harbor. They pulled into the beach on the starboard side, going in where the Canadian Navy maintained a beach during the war for the boys to relax on when on leave. The navy installation nearby is still manned. The next morning the Bryants watched the navy boys put on a drill. Then they took the Millie II through the small boat pass named Shark Cove."

"Legend has it that the Indians dredged this pass. It has only about one fathom at low water, but it is a safe passage on a rising tide or at high water. The trees and branches hang clear over the passage and it is one of the most interesting of trips."

"They dug little neck clams aplenty on this beach mentioned above, and across the way, on a white sand beach they dug butter clams."

"Bill particularly recommends the Harbour House Hotel in Ganges Harbor. Go beyond the public landing at the town's main docks. Others frequently recommended this inn and the quaintness of its

How Much Hot Water Do You Use Each Month?

Plenty of hot water is needed in the modern home... hot water for bathing, for laundry, for dishwashing, for housecleaning... in fact there are over 100 uses for hot water in the average household today.

If you have some non-automatic tank that requires attention down in the basement someone has to climb about 24,000 steps a year.

With a modern automatic electric storage water heater, you can have all the hot water your family wants, 24 hours a day, without any effort on your part. Automatic electric storage water heaters (insulated like giant thermos bottles) provide clean hot water at the exact temperature you require at the low cost of approximately 90¢ to $1 per person per month for the average family of four.

To get complete satisfaction you should make sure that you get the right size heater for your home. The following table will guide you:

Minimum Suggested Size Automatic Storage Water Heater
No. of Bathrooms	No. of Bedrooms	Capacity in Gallons, Electric Storage Water Heater
1	2 or 3	40
1	4	50
2	3 or 4	60

In the case of larger homes than shown above, ask your appliance dealer or plumber for an individual recommendation.

SPLIT THE BOOTY

About two or three days later I met Smithy, the fellow who ran the last boat used. He told me Baker had phoned from Anacortes that he would be down that afternoon at three to collect the money for the 30 sacks that had been sold, and Smithy said: "If you want any money, you better be there." So that afternoon I went to Smithy's place and saw Baker collect $1,800 from the man who sold the liquor for him. Baker then explained that there were $600 expenses, so he gave me $400, keeping as much to himself and a like amount that he said he was going to send to Paul in Victoria. I then asked him how much liquor was left and where it was. He said about 60 cases, here in Seattle, and some at Anacortes. Then the party who had been selling the liquor for Baker spoke up and said there were only 22 cases here.

There was some argument and I finally told Baker to do what he liked with the remainder. He then sneaked out of the place without paying Smithy the $600 for use of the boat. I took the $400 and paid Mr. Davis and Mr. White what I owed them, squared myself elsewhere and got some clothing.

Then Charles Davis got me a job with the Brewster Cigar Company on the proposition that I worked for one month for nothing. I had been working for perhaps a month when I finally awoke to the fact that I was a hunted man, and was wanted for the murder of two Canadian citizens, that I took alarm and left the City of Seattle, and going to New Orleans was there arrested.

IN HIDING?
I omitted to state that I understood Baker's idea of leaving the schooner at Halibut Island was that Marloff's boat coming from Tacoma would pass the island and find the boat. Therefore, when the paper said that Gillis and his son were missing, I thought they had been taken from the schooner by this boat and they being in no situation to notify the police, were in hiding.

I hereby make known that no part of this statement has been written while the undersigned was subject to mental agitation, due to duress or promise of assistance or other inducements caused, made or offered by the conveying officers. It may be taken of my appreciation of the considerate treatment extended me by Inspector Parsons. Respectfully,
Harry F. Sowash.

This document was handed to me by Inspector Parsons on March 8, 1955. It was then read over to me and each of the 13 pages initialed by Inspector Parsons and myself.

Harry F. Sowash.
In his notes, appended to a copy of the statement, Sowash offers further explanatory details of the entire incident. Among these are the statement that the hi-jacking was Paul's scheme. "He had seen the old man's boat that afternoon and had gone down and seen him and had arranged for the false hi-jacking."

In respect of the actual attack on the Beryl-G, Sowash offered more details of the action and conversation accompanying it. Referring to the two explosions when Baker

Ladies To Stage Shortcake Tea

Monthly meeting of the South Salt Spring Island Women's Institute was held last Thursday at Dromore, residence of the Hamilton family.

President Mrs. A. Davis was in the chair. Ten members were present. Mrs. F. Corder was welcomed as a guest. The minutes, read by Mrs. R. Lee, secretary, showed a busy and successful season.

Arrangements were made to hold a shortcake tea on July 27 at the home of Mrs. R. Lee, at 2.30 p.m. There will be stalls of home cooking and miscellaneous articles, ice cream, and tea-cup reading.

Tea was served by Misses Ina, Violet and Beatrice Hamilton. This was the final meeting until September.

boarding the liquor boat, he explains them further.

SHOT IN THE ARM

"The heavy explosion was the old man, scared you so that your gun went off and hit him in the arm, only you didn't know it then, the next shot was in the air, you then went into the cabin picked up the revolver the old man had, got a shotgun, a rifle from where the boy's bunk was (this rifle was hanging on the wall over the boy's bunk), and a big butcherknife, then you closed the door after telling the old man and his son that the first one who poked his head out of the door would be shot. The old man was bleeding a little from the arm. The rifle and shotgun you threw away a little later. (They got the two guns from the water)."

"... When Paul came into the cabin the old man said: 'Why, Paul, what are you doing here?', then Paul tried to whisper something to the old man when you weren't looking but the old man yelled: 'You're a G --- lying thief and this isn't the first time you tried to rob me, you stole 15 barrels of beer from me at Discovery. Before I'm through with you you will wish you never went in the booze game!' Paul said: '--- you! I know a few things about you too, and who got the Hatzel hi-jacked!' Then you swore at Paul and said: 'Come on, cut all this argument and let's get going, let's get to Bare Island and you two guys stay where you are!'"

CHOP YOUR HEAD OFF!
The statement then carries on to the point where Baker and Paul were in an altercation. "While in the dinghy Paul confessed he had not seen the old man about the liquor, but said he thought the old man was yellow and would show no fight, then you pulled the knife and said: 'You double-crossing skunk I ought to chop your head off for getting me in this mess!'"

The last notes are addressed to Baker and are appended by Sowash in elaboration of the statement already made.

The final marginal note refers to the leaving of the Beryl-G to drift so that the Marloff boat might find it.

"Your idea was that Marloff had found them but they were waiting for a chance to get even with Paul. Now remember all this you know but I don't, it is your answer to my story. Our big point is the liquor left in the boat, and the four days the boat drifted. Just keep cool and calm, don't say too much and we win. Your pal SI." (To be continued).

MANY PETITIONS BUT NO WATER

Water was an acute problem for M. E. Salt last week. In a letter to Central Saanich council the ratepayer expressed surprise that taxes had nearly doubled in five years. The writer had signed many petitions, some for getting water, but there was still no water available.

What are local improvements? Why not sidetrack the money used for the present school enquiry for the purpose of getting water? pursued the writer.

The council is enquiring into water at the present time, the writer was assured. The council, in any case, has no jurisdiction over school matters, added Reeve H. R. Brown.

$400 Cost To Reduce Beach Drive Hazard

Councillors of Central Saanich will inspect the junction of Clark Road and Beach Drive with a view to ascertaining what work might be carried out to reduce the hazard of a blind corner at the foot of a steep hill.

Works Superintendent Carl Breitenbach reported that the widening of the corner could be achieved for $390, of which $100 would be the cost of removing a pole in the vicinity. There was some debate as to whether the council could afford the cost, before it was decided to inspect the location.

NO TEAROOM FOR WEST SAANICH

Mrs. Edith Don was refused permission to operate a tea room on West Saanich Road at Brentwood by Central Saanich council last week. The council authorized a letter to Mrs. Don explaining that the property was zoned for residential purposes only. She was advised that she could apply for rezoning of the property.

The council at this juncture decided to appoint a zoning board of appeal, in accordance with the Town Planning Act.

CAVEAT EMPTOR

Last week, at Central Saanich council meeting Reeve H. R. Brown reported an instance of the sale of residentially zoned property as a commercial site. Council decided that it was a problem of no direct concern of the municipality.

DEPOSITORS BY MAIL ARE NO. 1 CUSTOMERS AT B OF M

Many of the Bank of Montreal's first customers each day don't come anywhere near its office, says Jock Johnston, manager of the B of M branch in Sidney. These are the men and women who find it more convenient to do their banking through the mails than by calling in person.

"You can get an almost complete range of banking services and protection through the postal service," Mr. Johnston explains. "You can

BIG GATHERING AT SOCIAL CREDIT GARDEN PARTY IN GROUNDS OF VAGABOND FARM

Fine rain did nothing to spoil the success of the Social Credit garden party, which was held by kind permission of the Hon. Kenneth Kiernan and Mrs. Kiernan in their lovely garden at Royal Oak, on Wednesday, June 13.

Tea was served under the famous triple cedars on the spacious lawn. Mrs. Filmer poured tea, assisted by Mrs. Huntingford and Mrs. Ley, with members of the W.A. helping.

Mrs. A. C. Boydell and Mrs. A. Filmer received the tickets at the entrance, and Mrs. Lewis Harvey presided over a stall of miscellaneous articles.

After tea, four charming little Highland lassies from the Adeline Duncan School of Dancing, entertained the guests with dances to the music of the bagpipes of Jamie Troy, pupil of Pipe Major Ian Duncan. Wee Heather Serhyenko in diminutive dress kilt executed her intricate steps with her sister Kathie Serhyenko, Jeanie McNeil and Elaine Dickenson with great concentration.

Another attraction was the table where the Misses Hamilton, of Fulford Harbor, Salt Spring Island, delighted seekers of tea-cup fortunes, with words of wisdom.

A contingent of ladies, active in Social Credit circles in Nanaimo,

ANNUAL PIONEERS' DINNER IS ENJOYED ON SATURDAY

Members of the active Saanich Pioneer Association and their guests enjoyed the annual old-time dinner in the Log Cabin at Saanichton on Saturday evening, June 16. The usual large crowd was catered to and historic moments in the life of the Saanich Peninsula were recalled with pleasure as the old-timers assembled at their yearly feast.

President of the society, Thos. Lidgate, an old-time fiddler, kept the program moving at a steady pace. As usual, general arrangements were in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nimmo of Saanichton who have long given active leadership to the society and its gay functions.

GOOD MEAL
Caterers for these old-time dinners have established an enviable reputation as good cooks and this year's dinner was one of the best. Cold turkey and ham was served in abundance, augmented by old-time baked beans and pies of all descriptions. Residents of Saanich who are on reducing diets should never attend the pioneers' dinner.

Members stood reverently with bowed heads in memory of departed members. Death had claimed more than one esteemed pioneer during the past year. The Queen's health was enthusiastically toasted with Regular meeting of the Vesuvius Bay circle was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Carlyle, with the vice-president, Mrs. P. E. Lowther, in the chair, Archdeacon and Mrs. G. H. Holmes taking the devotional period and 16 members present.

It has been arranged to provide a case of canned goods to be sent to Camp Columbia on Thetis Island.

Those present were reminded of the annual tea and garden party to be held on Thursday, July 19, at the home of the Misses Gladys and Cree Shaw, Rosemeath Farm, Fulford, and a hope was expressed, that as many as possible would attend.

Following adjournment tea was served by Miss Anne Van Pelt.

LOCAL LEGION BRANCH WELL REPRESENTED AT VICTORIA CROSS CENTENNIAL IN LONDON

Saanich Peninsula branch of the Canadian Legion will be well represented at centennial Victoria Cross celebrations in London. Both honorary presidents of the branch are on their way, accompanied by a Brentwood lady.

Honorary presidents of the Peninsula branch are Major-General G. R. Pearkes of Saanich, and Col. Cy Peck of Sidney. Both won the Victoria Cross during the First Great War. The former is today member of parliament for this district while the latter served in both the House of Commons and the provincial legislature. Both were elected as Conservatives.

WHOSE PIGEON?

Council Seeks Control

On Monday evening at a special meeting of Central Saanich council it was ruled that the municipality had no control over the operations of boathouses in the Brentwood area because the matter of foreshore leases had yet to be settled.

Mrs. Dorothy Woodward complained that Claude Creed had carried out work on his installation without a permit. Mr. Creed replied that he had put in a catwalk at a cost of $25 and was under the impression that no permit was required for work under $50.

It was decided to write to the provincial parks department asking that the waterfront provincial park strip be developed as a park or the authority be relinquished by the provincial government to the municipality. A rider was added to state that the municipality was powerless to administer the area without some such action being taken.

When the red tiles of the fireplace or porch floor become dull, rub them with a cut piece of lemon and salt, and then wash with warm soapy water.
